○ Department-Specific Notes

– Application Requirements

- Medicine: Applicants must consult the department office before applying.
- Physics: Preference is given to applicants who majored in Physics at their previous institution.
- Clothing & Fashion: Preference is given to applicants with a background in apparel design, garment production, or textile materials.

– Language Support for Coursework and Thesis Supervision

- Chemistry, Forest Resources, Mechanical Engineering: Foreign-language support is available for coursework and thesis supervision.
- Global Business: Chinese-language support is available for coursework and thesis supervision.
- Visual Design: Interpretation support is available for coursework and thesis supervision.
- Chinese Language & Culture: Chinese-language support is available for coursework and thesis supervision. Theses may also be written in Chinese.

○ Thesis-Alternative Program

– Applicable program: Master's degree program

– A system allowing students to earn the degree by taking additional coursework credits and completing research/projects (as designated by each department) equivalent to a thesis, instead of submitting a thesis.

○ AI Interpretation/Translation System

– Available upon request.

○ Departments Offering Courses in Foreign Languages

– Graduate courses are conducted in Korean in principle, but the following departments may offer some or all courses in a foreign language.

- English-medium courses: English Language & Literature, History, Physics, Chemistry, Forest Resources, Clothing & Fashion, Pharmacy, Biotechnology, Biomedical Engineering, Construction & Systems Engineering, New Materials Engineering, Electrical Engineering, Information & Communication Engineering, Chemical Engineering, Environmental Engineering
- Chinese-medium courses: Chinese Language & Culture, History, Visual Design, Global Business
- Global Chinese-Language Education track (Chinese Language & Culture Dept.): all courses conducted entirely in Chinese
- Japanese-medium courses: Japanese Language & Literature

○ Changes to Department and Major Names

– The detailed names of departments and majors are subject to change. Any changes will be announced separately on the Graduate School website.

[Attachment] Apostille Convention

■ Apostille Convention

- Official Name: Convention Abolishing the Requirement of Legalization for Foreign Public Documents
- The Apostille Convention simplifies the international use of public documents by replacing consular legalization with an Apostille issued by the competent authority of the country where the document was issued.
- Documents bearing a valid Apostille are accepted without additional consular legalization.
- The Convention was concluded at The Hague on October 5, 1961, and entered into force on January 24, 1965.
- For information on Apostille authorities by country, refer to the HCCH website (www.hcch.net).

Current Apostille Member States (as of March 30, 2025)

Region	Countries/Territories

1. Applicants from Member States

   (For graduates of private institutions, notarization must first be obtained before the Apostille certificate is issued; China is an exception, where Apostille, consular certification, or a notarized translation may be submitted.)

   - Documents: Graduation (or expected graduation) certificate, degree certificate, academic transcript, and other academic documents submitted with the application
   - Issuing authority: The competent authority designated by the government of the issuing country
   - Procedure: Obtain an Apostille for the required documents and submit the original Apostille-certified documents.

2. Applicants from Non-Member States

   - Documents: Graduation (or expected graduation) certificate, degree certificate, academic transcript, and other academic documents submitted with the application
   - Issuing authority: The Korean embassy or consulate in the country where the documents were issued
   - Procedure: Obtain consular authentication or confirmation of the academic documents from the Korean embassy or consulate and submit the original authenticated documents.

3. Note : Documents not issued in Korean or English must be accompanied by a notarized Korean or English translation.
